FUNDRAISER EVENT

Review on Hanover Touch-A-Truck

Toysinbox 3D Printing was invited to offer 3D printing fun activity in Touch-A-Truck hosted by professional firefighters of Hanover on September 26th. This event was a great success. The school sports field provides a large and comfortable natural environment for the whole event. More than 50 vehicles were displayed in the center for children to climb on and touch. A Blackhawk helicopter joined the event and added tremendous excitement to the event (see picture 1). Thousands of pieces of candy fell from a giant bucket lift in the air by a crane (see pic 2). Many free or low-cost activities and four large playgrounds kept children busy. Everything was well-organized. Our booth had visitors from local and also from surrounding towns. Surely it is a great event to attend.

3D Printing in Libraries

From late August, Toysinbox 3D Printing has brought 3D printing workshops and fun 3D printing activities to local libraries. We are happy to see that many library patrons enjoyed our workshops and fun activities. We really appreciated the fact that local libraries stand at the 3D printing technology frontier and are able to bring this amazing technology to their communities. On October 3rd, Toysinbox will be at Morse Institute Library's Innovation Lab grand opening and offer fun 3D printing activities. On October 18th, Toysinbox will be at Weston Public Library for the 50th birthday party of the Friends of the Weston Public Library and will offer 3D printing fun activities. In October, Toysinbox will also be at Wellesley Public Library and Westford Library to present 3D printing workshops. All the library events are free to the patrons. Check your local libraries and register for a 3d printing activity or workshop today. Do not let the fun slip away! Catch it while you can!

Intermediate 3D Design and 3D Printing Enrichment Class

Starting in Fall, Toysinbox 3D Printing introduced the intermediate enrichment class of 3D design and 3D printing. We are going to meet some of our former students and to explore the 3D design and 3D printing world again at a higher level. We will finish eight fun projects together. What a happy making journey!

Holiday 3D Printing Show

From Nov 21 to Jan 10, Toysinbox will organize fun 3D printing exhibit to add extra local entertainment to the holiday season. Unique, education and full of thrills. More information will be released in future issues of Toysinbox Times. Stay tuned!
